Re: Riley v. Taylor, et al.,
Civil Action No. 06-01-GMS
(Scheduling Order Is Void; Schedule Case For Trial)

Dear Judge Sleet,

Plaintiff is still alive - Praises are due to Yahweh,
my Protector & Revenger!!

The defendants in this case have willfully defaulted on all discovery responses in connection with plaintiff's requests for production of documents. Plaintiff's last Motion For Production Of Documents was filed in this court dated March 20, 2008. Plaintiff have the total of seven (7) outstanding motions and correspondences pending before the Court relating to the discovery of documents of all defendants failure to provide the plaintiff any medical treatment.

For the record, this is to inform the Court that After Four (4) unsuccessful attempts to persuade her boss defendant CMS, a doctor Louis Derosiers finally got approval to have plaintiff examined by an outside Specialist for his rectal dysfunction. After 6-years of complaining and suffering plaintiff was examined by a qualified Specialist on April 15, 2008, who Recommended that surgery is necessary to fix the problem. The Specialist further Recommended that a Colonoscopy be done prior to surgery.

On June 9, 2008, plaintiff was transported to a Medical Center in Dover, Delaware for the colonoscopy procedure, but the doctor refused to perform the procedure because defendant CMS Medical Staff failed to flush-out plaintiff's colon of any waste in preparation for the colonoscopy, a procedure, Your Honor, probably had done within the past several years due to your age and risk group.

Defendant CMS incompetency (or willful failure) to perform a simple pre-colon cleansing for the colonoscopy procedure is delaying the actual surgery plaintiff needed since 2002, to repair his rectum disorder. (see attached hereto the Sick Call Complaint Plaintiff filed with the Medical Staff following his return from the Medical Center and CMS Memo Notification for Colonoscopy Appointment).

The Court's September 26, 2007

Scheduling Order Is Void

The Court's Scheduling Order is now Void! No Summary Judgment Motions were filed by either party pursuant to paragraph 5 of the Scheduling Order.

The only pleading that comes close to a request for summary judgment is set forth in plaintiff's "Motion To File The Attached Medical Document" (see D.I. #94).

No further discovery is needed. Plaintiff can simply subpoena the doctors who treated him to trial and direct them to bring any relevant medical records with them.

The Court shall schedule this case for trial without further delay. Plaintiff must have his medical conditions surgically repaired before his release from prison.

Thank You!
James W. Riley

Complaint (What type of problem are you having)? Today, 6/9/08, I went for a colonoscopy procedure but the doctor refused to perform the procedure because CMS medical staff failed to administer prep medicine to flush out my colon. However, a laxative medication will cause me to have multiple bowel movements which will result in massive swelling of my rectum. Each bowel movement intensify the swelling & pain, and the swelling will last over 24 hours or longer. So the hemorrhoidal surgery should be done before the colonoscopy. Please schedule me to see the doctor soon as possible. (Can the colonoscopy be done while my bowels are inflamed & swollen)?
